Research Methods Experience

- Data Quality Assurance and Data Management: Current role at Leeds Trinity University requires management of central datasets on income and research staff for research outputs. This includes contributing to periodic reports drawn from these data sets.
- Research methods: Qualitative methods (including use of NVIVO); Quantitative Statistical methods (SPSS, JASP); Documentary methods; survey methods, legal analysis methods, interdisciplinary methods.
- Qualitative interview skills used on for the Doctoral thesis above and, outside of academia, research on the UK government's Kickstart programme which I led and conducted independently.
- A research assistant role for the Global Health Policy Unit and the University of Leeds on 'Covid-19 responses' (sponsored by the World Health Organisation) (ref: Professor Garrett Brown).
- A research assistant role for a comparative project examining 2014 European Parliament elections. This produced the co-authored book chapter listed below.
- Research assistant role in 2017 for the EU sanctioned MAX project (A project seeking to maximise migrants' contribution to society). This brought engagement with European Social Survey. (2017, sections 2 and 3).

- Research conducted from 2015-2018 for the European Research Council (ERC) funded TEMS Marketization project led by Associate Professor Ian Greer on EU Competition policy and Healthcare.
